ABOUT ST JOHN'S COLLEGE AND CRANMER HALL

Founded in 1909 as an evangelical Anglican foundation, St John's College has over the years pursued a two-fold vision: to offer training for church leaders within a world-class university while also offering Christian hospitality to students from a wide range of academic disciplines at undergraduate and postgraduate levels.

Cranmer Hall, the theological college within St John's College, offers theological training for Anglican ordinands, trainee Free Church ministers, and undergraduates and postgraduates studying theology, ministry and mission within a confessional context. Rooted in an evangelical tradition, Cranmer Hall has over the years proved a generous home for people training from a range of Christian backgrounds.

With 60 ordinands and over 100 students as part of the current learning community (including almost 20 on the Free Church Track), Cranmer Hall has a unique role in training people in the context of the North East for mission in the North of England and beyond. It has a reputation for excellent theological education across a range of academic pathways, a rich experience of placements across the region and beyond, and a commitment to shared learning across a diverse community.

VISION AND PURPOSE

Cranmer Hall delivers taught undergraduate and postgraduate programmes: the BA in Theology, Ministry, and Mission is validated via Durham University's Common Awards scheme, while the MA in Theology and Ministry is directly validated by Durham University. Both programmes are entirely taught and administered by Cranmer Hall, and there are currently approximately 50 students registered on each programme. They are a core part of the excellent teaching and training for ministry that we provide, and receive outstanding feedback from students and external examiners.

We have a close partnership with Durham University's world-leading Department of Theology and Religion, with whom we deliver a leading professional Doctorate of Theology and Ministry. Many of our students take modules from Department taught programmes and vice versa, and there is some interchange of staff supervision and teaching.

The Academic Administrator provides administrative support for Cranmer Hall's BA and MA programmes and processes, from registration and enrolment, through Boards of Studies, assessments and marking, module evaluation, to Boards of Examiners and publication of results.

The Academic Administrator works closely with the Director of Undergraduate Studies, Director of Postgraduate Studies, and Academic Dean, the four of whom together form the Academic Team; and also works within the Operational Team to deliver excellent professional support across the wider Cranmer Hall offering (which includes formational and community aspects).
